Description:

Prof. Anthony Thomas started the session by introducing the topic of fluency in English. He explained that fluency does not only refer to the ability to speak English fluently but also encompasses the ability to read, write and understand the language proficiently. He then went on to highlight the importance of fluency in English in the current global scenario. He then outlined the four skills that are necessary for fluency in English – listening; speaking, reading and writing. He emphasized the importance of practicing all four skills regularly in order to improve fluency. He also shared some tips on how to improve fluency, such as reading aloud, listening to English radio and TV programs, and speaking with native English speakers. The session was highly beneficial for the students and they enjoyed it immensely. The students
